Individual Picture Scores Correlation

The chart below contains all of the night's average judge's scores per picture (in red), sorted from lowest on the left to highest on the right. Your scores on each picture are overlaid in blue. The goal is for each judge to have a wide dispersion of scores (high standard deviation), and to have scores with a high correlation to the average scores. Low on the left, high on the right. The higher the correlation the better. Over the past twelve months the average judge's correlation has been 0.78. You getting over this number is very good. A number one standard deviation below the average is getting low: 0.70 Your number: 0.89

The table below is sorted with the judge's average scores from low to high. Think about the pictures where your scores varied a high amount from the average score.
